American Red Cross Resuscitation Suite™ BLS, ALS, PALS, NALS and First Aid

Rooted in Science: Unrivaled Evidence-Based Curriculum and Industry Best Practices

Red Cross programs are guided by the latest evidence-based science, the Red Cross Scientific Advisory Council and are aligned with ILCOR CoSTR and Red Cross Healthcare Guidelines and approved by CAMTS. Red Cross curriculum includes additional resuscitation and patient care topics for unmatched depth.

Become a GMR Red Cross Training Site

For Air Crews, Email Request To:
Joe Percer | joseph.percer@gmr.net
cc Lena Rohrabaugh | lena.rohrabaugh@gmr.net

For Ground Crews, Email Request To:
Carissa Stern | carissa.stern@gmr.net
cc Lena Rohrabaugh | lena.rohrabaugh@gmr.net

Bridge to Become a GMR Red Cross Instructor

Request Requirements:
Full name, email address, Home Business Unit (BU) and copies of all AHA instructor certifications.*

Email Bridge Requests To:
onboarding@redcross.org

Subject Line:
GMR-Red Cross Instructor Bridge Request

Current AHA Faculty: Provide only your Faculty certification for each transitioning discipline; this will verify instructor certification.*

Red Cross Courses

Neonatal Advanced Life Support (NALS)*
Developed in collaboration with AWHONN, it provides innovative neonatal resuscitation training for managing newborns both inside and outside the delivery room or NICU (Available in BL only)

Basic Life Support (BLS)*
(Available in C, BL, ILT, R)

Advanced Life Support (ALS)*
(Available in C, BL, ILT, R)

Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS)*
(Available in C, BL, ILT, R)

Adult and Pediatric FA/CPR/AED
(Available in BL, ILT)

Training Modalities

Challenge (C) offers a streamlined path for experienced participants to earn certification by successfully completing knowledge and competency-based skills assessments

Blended Learning (BL) combines online didactic instruction with hands-on, instructor-led skills practice

Instructor-Led (ILT) delivers hands-on, expert-guided instruction in a structured classroom setting

Recertification (R) offers a streamlined path for renewing certification through focused review and skills verification

 Click link for preview of teaching resources & training materials*
 Available in a variety of course options for teaching and certification*
* Course outlines located in Section D of each instructor manual*

Direct access to Red Cross EMS Training Consultant, Kaitlynn Salyer Kaitlynn.Salyer@redcross.org

American Red Cross
Training Services